

Mid North Sustainability Community Forum

Saturday 6 April 2019

10.30 am – 12.30 pm

Brick Pavilion Clare Valley Showgrounds

The Legatus Group is a peak regional local government organisation that focuses on the wealth, wellbeing and social cohesion of its communities via sustainable productive landscapes and the natural environments.

They are currently working with a local Mid North reference group and Adelaide University PhD Intern Bridie Meyer-McLean to develop a report that will guide recommendations for a concept plan for a regional sustainability hub.

The goal is to build a physical / virtual hub to lead positive change for regional communities in preparing for climatic changes.

To assist and gain a better knowledge of what is occurring locally a community forum is being held to coincide with the SA Autumn Garden Festival in Clare on the following day.

The community forum is seeking people who would like to know more about the project, hear from local projects / enterprise and to contribute to the open forum session.

For further information please contact Simon Millcock on ceo@legatus.sa.gov.au

Current presenters include:

- Simon Millcock CEO Legatus Group - Project background
- Bridie Meyer-McLean – Project update
- Warrick Duthy - Ethical Epicurean Experiences
- Patrick Williams - Clare Lions Green Team
- Amanda Reynolds – Green Platypus Gardens

Light lunch to be provided.

There is the potential to develop this event as an annual sustainability forum for including as an ongoing component of the Autumn Garden Festival.
